

Jessie Maris

2025 Guest Speaking

Hi, I'm Jessie – a content creator, mum, teacher, and storyteller who's passionate about all things family life, digital creativity, and parenting in the modern world. Whether I'm sharing the funny (and sometimes chaotic) reality of raising little ones, diving into social media strategies, or helping parents navigate technology with their kids, I bring an engaging, relatable, and fun approach to every talk.

With a background in education and a thriving digital brand, I love inspiring parents, educators, and businesses to embrace creativity, connection, and confidence—both online and offline.
